At bedtime last night I read my son some travel stories

In the first story set in the 1700s, the heroes started in Portugal, travelled through Spain, Andorra and France and ended in Switzerland.

The second story was set in modern times and spun a tale of a journey from India through Nepal, China and Laos before ending in Cambodia.

The third story told of a long sea voyage departing from Seychelles and calling at Madagascar, Mauritius and the Maldives.

After all these stories, to which land did my son travel?
